CLUBS

THE PYLADIAN GIRLS

The Pyladian Girls celebrated their first anniversary with a supper Tuesday evening, September 26 at 4175 West Belle Place.

The affair was informal, but very colorful. The supper was held for twenty-four; the following clubs being represented: The Pyladians, Foxes, Crescent, Haines, Quakers, Hives, Adolphs and Black Swan. Each club member wore a beautiful bouquet of roses, the club flower. The girls had the club colors, pink and green, were carried through the decorations and also the three course supper which was served on beautifully decorated red tables under soft candle light. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. All spent a delightful evening.

SILENT MYSTERY CLUB

Mrs. Shelton's Gypsy Play

At Porro Last Friday

Friends and admirers of Mrs. Shelton, packed Porro Auditorium for the second time, to see our gypsy play "Gypsy". As early as 7 o'clock the great throng began to fill the auditorium.

Little Georgia Williams as Gypsy was more charming than ever. The stolen children and Supply deserve much praise. Mrs. Wilson as Mrs. Dowling seemed to play her part with more earnestness than before.

Mrs. Wheeler, as Francha was a splendid character. Mr. Taylor as Morris was great. George Shelton as Gypsy John, was good as usual, and lovely Miss Gladys Williams, and like a Nightingale, in her gypsy song, Mr. J. Stewart took the audience by storm with his wonderful voice.

GOOD VADEVILLE SHOW AT BOOKER WASHINGTON THEATRE

Ollie Young opens the show at the Booker Washington theatre this week with a shock wire performance. She does feats in walking, disrobing, balancing and juggling. A difficult and clever exhibition of balance of which with a lighted lamp on his head while he passes a ring over his body. The act takes well.

Rhodes and Jenkins are a lively male pair. They have a real funny line of conversation and sing and dance to the delight of the audience. Their songs are old but put over in a way that goes big because of their original style and antics.

John R. Bigham is an artistic and winning entertainer. She has real talent and not only is an excellent singer and dancer but her articulation and expression is perfect. She acts her songs and mixes much glowing work. "Scandal!" and "Scandal's Mother" are two of her song numbers.

Hell and Bell, another male team, close the show. They have excellent dances, singing and a big store of wit-saying comedy. The song "Ain't It A Shame on Sunday" makes a devoted hit. The newly dance music hits the audience in the right spot.

BILLY McLAURIN COMPANY IS COMING NEXT WEEK

The Billy McLauren Musical Comedy Company with "The Southern Daring Girls" will come to the Booker Washington Theatre Monday for a single week's engagement. The aggregation of ten performers is said to be of more than ordinary ability and presents a show with plenty of pep, class and talent. Monday will be "Pay Day," for the patrons as usual.

THE PICTURE THEATRES

"Putting It Over," Just Tony And Richard Talmadge in "Putting It Over" will be the feature of the Casino Theatre this Saturday. It is a story of small town politics and contains a series of hilarious scenes and prize fights and gun encounters.

Tony Mix will be presented in "Just Tony" on Sunday. It is the story of a wild westing, the leader of his desert band, who seeks vengeance for the cruelties which man has inflicted on him, but who abandons his hatred that he may come under the protective wing of the one man in the world who befriended him.

John Gilbert in "Honor First" will be featured on Wednesday. The picture tells the story of two brothers, both of whom are serving in the French army, one as a private, the other as an officer, during the World War. Jacques who leads his brother's company, the attack when Honor becomes panic-stricken and does what is said to be the most cowardly of the deserting brother and honors are heaped upon him in the other's name. It is at this point that serious complications begin to develop, resulting in a romance of stirring power and interest.

"Trimmed," "The Song Of The Wolf" "Without Benefit Of Clergy" At The Star.

Host Gibson will be presented in "Trimmed" at the Star Theatre this Sunday. The story concerns a young soldier who returns from four glorious years with the A. E. F. A political ring seeks to capitalize the young man's great reputation, and his home folk by running him for sheriff. "The young man is elected by an overwhelming vote, but he creates havoc with the plans of the political ring by observing conscientiously his oath of office. A pretty love story runs throughout the photoplay."

On Tuesday Jack London's "The Song of the Wolf" will be presented. It is a blazing love story and the artist shows how an Indian maid fights courageously for the love of a white hero and who love her man falls over and then with real love awakens, triangles with dirt and bits in the "From wilderness."

Next Thursday and Friday, the Star will feature Rudyard Kipling's story, "Without Benefit of Clergy." It is the story of an Englishman for the life of a Hindu girl, whom he brought with gold. It was but an episode in his life, but it was his only experience. As transferred to the screen from Mr. Kipling's own scenario, it grips the audience with an even greater intensity than the story.

Next Thursday, "The Son of the Wolf" will be presented. It is a story of a young man who is a Hindu girl, whom he brought with gold. It was but an episode in his life, but it was his only experience. As transferred to the screen from Mr. Kipling's own scenario, it grips the audience with an even greater intensity than the story.

"The Bonded Woman," "The Sage Brush Trail" And "The Masquerader" At The Casino.

Betty Compson will be presented in "The Bonded Woman" at the Casino Theatre this Saturday. The scene is laid for the greater part in the South Seas and the exotic scene of the tropics irresistible wins the spectator. The story, by the late John Fleming Wilson, deals with a young woman who plans her faith to a disappointed sailor man and ultimately brings about his regeneration. It proves a grim battle for redemption of a man's soul, but she wins and abiding love crowns her efforts.

On Sunday, Roy Stewart will be seen in "The Sage Brush Trail." It is a western story of rapid action and suspense. It tells of a fearless sheriff who returns the toughest town in the West to law. The story is the story of a man who is a Hindu girl, whom he brought with gold. It was but an episode in his life, but it was his only experience. As transferred to the screen from Mr. Kipling's own scenario, it grips the audience with an even greater intensity than the story.

Another great play has come to the screen—and with it, the world-famous actor who so triumphantly portrayed its dual roles on the stage.

A drama of great dimensions—the story of John Chivers, the leader of men and then the outcast—and of his double, John Leder, who took his name, his place—and his wife.

IT MAGNETISES!
IT ENTRANCES!
IT THRILLS!

In Twelve Reels
Positively The Greatest Of All Masterpieces. Even Greater Than "Blood And Sand."
